RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Faculty Supervisor, Prevention of Violence and Substance Abuse Research Lab, University of Alabama, August 2012 – present

Collaborate with advanced undergraduate students and graduate students from a variety of departments across campus to investigate interpersonal violence and trauma, substance abuse and health behaviors, and other topics.

Faculty Supervisor, Abuse and Trauma Lab, Birmingham-Southern College, February 2004 – August 2012

Collaborated with advanced undergraduate students on research in the area of violence; psychological, physical, and sexual abuse; trauma; substance abuse; and other related issues. See <http://faculty.bsc.edu/twitte/> for a list of former lab members.

Statistical Consultant, www.stat-help.com, August 2006 – May 2007

Provided statistical consulting services for researchers of varying skill levels.

Research Lab Member, Program for the Study of Traumatic Stress in Higher Education, University of Arkansas, September 2002 – May 2003

Investigated the effects of trauma on students' mental health and academic performance. Involved in the initial development of the research lab.

Research Lab Member, Dr. Jeffrey Lohr, University of Arkansas, August 1999 – May 2003

Researched personality correlates of perpetrators of partner violence and sexual assault (e.g., psychopathy) and judgments and decisions about situations involving partner violence and sexual assault. Involved in IRB applications, development of research stimuli, data collection, data entry, data analysis, and conference/paper submissions.

Research Assistant, Center for Research on Aggression & Violence, Univ. of Arkansas, June 2000 – June 2001

Examined the prevalence rates for and correlates of dating violence, sexual assault, and alcohol use among college students. Research coordinator for the Center. Organized and initiated several research projects with various students and faculty members interested in working with the Center.

Research Lab Member, Dr. Tom Jackson, University of Arkansas, August 1999 – May 2000

Researched violence prevention programs for student-athletes and interventions for perpetrators of intimate partner violence. Involved in preliminary literature review for projects in these fields.

Research Lab Member, Dr. Patricia Petretic, University of Arkansas, August 1999 – May 2000

Researched trauma symptoms in female victims of sexual assault. Collaborated with multiple lab members on several projects. Involved in IRB applications, selection of assessment tools, data collection, data entry, data analysis, and conference/paper submissions.

Research Assistant, Dept. of Psychiatry, Baltimore Veterans Administration, January 1999 – July 1999

Examined the efficacy of telepsychiatry in the treatment of clinically depressed veterans. Conducted structured interviews (e.g., SCID, Hamilton Depression Inventory) and administered self-report questionnaires; worked in conjunction with seven psychiatrists to schedule patient appointments and maintain patient care for a six-month period; maintained Vtel Teleconferencing equipment; maintained research data utilizing SPSS-PC; and wrote extensive syntax and conducted analyses in consultation with a statistician. Acknowledged in the following publication: Ruskin et al., (2004). Treatment outcomes in depression: Comparison of remote treatment through Telepsychiatry to in-person treatment. American Journal of Psychiatry, 161, 1471-1476. Researched the rates of advance directives among Caucasian and African American veterans to yield a first-author publication.

Graduate Assistant, Academic Support Services for Student-Athletes, Loyola College, Aug. 1998 – Aug. 1999

Organized and tracked progress of the Student-Athlete Tutor Program, provided bi-weekly statistical reports for coaches, and collected and analyzed data on the student-athletes for the Athletic Director.

Statistical Consultant, Loyola College, August 1998 – May 1999

Provided statistical consulting services to graduate students (i.e., theses and dissertations).

Research Assistant, Drs. Ruth Stemberger and Amanda Thomas, Loyola College, January 1997 – August 1999

Managed on-going data collection for clinical research on anxiety disorders and Trichotillomania. Entered data, tracked data, and involved in preliminary data analyses.

Research Assistant, Department of Psychiatry, Behavioral Pharmacology Research Unit, Johns Hopkins University, June 1998 – August 1998

Helped examine the effects of certain stimulant and depressant drugs on cognitive and motor functioning. Created computerized memory tests (Deese, Roediger and McDermott (DRM) lists with target words and critical distracters); recruited and screened participants; and conducted extensive research sessions with community participants in double-blind, placebo-controlled trials.
